

TMCP HELPS BUILD A MOTHER'S DREAM ★

Rekha's life has been far from what her parents had dreamt to give her. Rekha was married to a construction worker and joined the trade to augment the family income. She would work on the construction sites with her husband so that their three children would have two decent meals to eat daily. Rekha came with her family to Pune when her youngest child was 3 years old. Luckily, there was a mobile creche run by Tara Mobile Creches Pune at the site where she worked. She and her husband worked on the site all day long while the children spent their time at the creche. "I felt good about the fact that while I was at work, my children were occupied. They would learn tables and songs among other things each day. I would eagerly look forward to the evening when they would tell me all about their day," says Rekha. "The didis at TMCP put in so much of their time, love and effort in taking care of our children. How would we have been able to provide education and nutrition for all our children were it not for TMCP's helping hand. Construction workers like me will always remain indebted to TMCP for their noble work and support," she adds.

After having worked for 7 years with bricks and sand, Rekha has now moved to doing housework for some families in the surrounding housing complexes. Her daughter Neha is now 13 years old, while her two sons Baliram and Vijay are 12 and 11 years old respectively. Rekha's dream is to ensure that her children study and stand on their own feet. She is grateful to Tara Mobile Creches for taking care of her children while she and her husband work. It is thanks to Rekha's determination and TMCP's support that Neha aspires to become an air-hostess and soar towards a successful future.
